In the world of off road innovation, few products have changed the game quite like the ARB Air Locker. From its early release in the late 80s, the Air Locker gained global acclaim, not only for its innovation, but for its near-bulletproof durability.

Over the decades, ARB continued refining the design, making it stronger, quieter, and more responsive. Today, it remains the go-to solution for recreational four-wheel drivers, professional racers, and military applications alike.

The ARB Air Locker isn't just a locker, it's a legend.
